The job(s) that keeps me going...

I started my journey as a Senior Nurse Manager in the private sector at Mount Elizabeth Hospital, Parkway Pantai since June 2012. In my current role as an Assistant Director of Nursing, I have been privileged to continuing working with and learning from Medical and Nursing colleagues with varying expertise (for e.g. Surgical, Orthopedic, Medical, Oncology, A&E, Mental Health and isolation units)

Prior to this, I worked at the National University Hospital's surgical ward and was there for 11 years, starting from a newly graduated staff nurse to my last position as a Nurse Manager in June 2012.
